The Churchwide Coordinating Team of Presbyterian Women (CCT) met at the Hampton Inn in Louisville, Kentucky, August 30-September 3, 2017.

Six new synod representatives began their terms at that meeting:

Ruby D. Brown, Synod of Lincoln Trails; Mary Ellen Ausenbaugh, Synod of Living Waters; JoAnn Burrell, Synod of the Northeast; Marvella Lambright, Synod of the Covenant; Barbara Clark, Synod of the Pacific; and Marilyn J. Stone, Synod of Lakes and Prairies.

We welcome these awesome women to the CCT. They enjoyed an orientation session the day before the meeting began, and settled into their new duties with enthusiasm and confidence.

We couldn't do what we do without you.

Fall Meeting Highlights

The CCT met between Hurricanes Harvey and Irma, so a message from Laurie Kraus, director of Presbyterian Disaster Assistance, read during the opening session of the CCT meeting on Thursday evening, made a deep impression. She said, "As our staff works through mobilizing a churchwide response to Hurricane Harvey, I can't help but think with gratitude of you all. . . . Not a month goes by that I do not sign at least ten thank-you letters to PW groups in congregations all across the U.S. who collect offerings and support for PDA responses . . . We could not do what we do without you. Thank you."

Also on Thursday evening, Rhashell Hunter and Lemuel Garcia-Arroyo, director and associate director, respectively, of Racial Ethnic and Women's Ministries, PC(USA), brought greetings to the CCT (see photos, p. 3). Rhashell talked about the close collaboration between PW and REWM—the shared work and recognition of PW as a related organization at GA in 2016.

Lemuel thanked PW for all that the women of the organization do for the PC(USA) and for God. His father, a pastor in Mexico who works with indigenous women, discovered the PW/ Horizons Bible study when Lemuel brought him copies of Vengan a las Aguas (Come to the Waters). He asked where he could get more studies in Spanish and Lemuel answered, "PW!"

Presbyterian woman and friends (thousands of them) come to aid of towns in Puerto Rico

By Kathy Randall

Forty-six-year-old Lara Richardson spent her high school years in Puerto Rico while her dad was in the Coast Guard. Hurting from the knowledge that her friends in Puerto Rico were suffering following Hurricanes Irma and Maria, Lara led an effort to fly into a somewhat forgotten town in Puerto Rico with 18,000 pounds of supplies on September 29, 2017.

Operation Puerto Rico Care-Lift began, Lara says, with one email asking friends to help people in Puerto Rico, one small charter plane (a flight that fell through), and a $10,000 goal on GoFundMe. She turned to Spirit Airlines, who agreed to take the supplies to Aguadilla. To date, there have been 12 relief flights.

On October 9, Lara wrote on her GoFundMe page: "Seventeen days ago I sent an email to 25 friends to figure out what I could do to help Puerto Rico. In these last two weeks, we have established a full-blown operation that is getting relief supplies directly into Aguadilla, Puerto Rico, and the surrounding areas and directly into the hands of people who need it. What has happened I can only describe as the power of friendship, human spirit and dedication by individuals working toward one cause."

Lara returned to Ft. Lauderdale with 220 citizens-turned-refugees. Since then, she and Operation Care-Lift have helped 500 people evacuate. Many have family with whom they are staying until living conditions improve in Puerto Rico.

Operation PR Care-Lift has raised over $200,000 in cash and supplies. On November 1, Lara told PW "We are continuing to raise money and send flights. We are planning a Christmas Care-lift where we take toys over for children."

Lara grew up with the PC(USA) a part of her life. Her mom Marianne is a ruling elder and a close college friend of mine. Lara is a graduate of Washington State University and an executive with Discovery TV. I am proud of her and the efforts she has made as a Presbyterian woman.

Editor's Note: Members of the Horizons Editorial Committee (HEC) met recently and sent supplies back with HEC member Danilie Hilerio-Villanueva, who lives in Aguadilla.

PW in the Synods

PW in the Synod of the Sun adopt online meetings

By Carol Davis, Synod of the Sun PWS moderator

Our PWSCT agreed in our face-to-face meeting in March that we would try to save money by not meeting at our usual site in July. Cheryl Pennington, our CCT rep, had presented a report at the March meeting on how the CCT used Zoom successfully. One of our main agenda items was to update our PW handbook, so we used Zoom to do this before the July meeting—with the final committee meeting lasting almost three hours! I used a Doodle poll to schedule the SCT meeting itself; half could meet one day and half the next. Rather than pick one of these days, I held two SCT meetings with the same agenda. The secretary, treasurer and I attended both. We voted on the handbook. Those who connected by phone rather than computer were polled verbally; the rest used the polling function on Zoom. We also voted on the dates of our March 2018 meeting. I had "practice" calls with any member who wanted to test her camera and sound beforehand; this was very helpful. After the meetings, the secretary "blended" the minutes into one document. My plan for my next two years as PWS moderator is to have a spring face-to-face meeting and a summer meeting using Zoom. For the July 2017 meetings, I paid for the Zoom Pro account so we would not have to worry about the length of the meeting. We are considering having PWS funds pay for an account for a specific e-mail address that we can share in planning our PWS gathering.

PW 101.....

Help for those new to PW!

If you are reading these words, you are probably a PW leader and know all things PW! But many of our faithful are unaware of some of the finer points of their amazing organization. That's why we began a "PW 101" series in our national newsletter. Each idea in the series is presented in such a way that newsletter editors and PW leaders can paste into their own documents/presentations. If you are so moved to share an idea or two that you think should be part of this series, please email carissa.herold@pcusa.org.

PW 101.4: PW Connectionalism Mirrors That of Church

It is said that Presbyterians approach every task in a way that is decent, in good order, and in community. That helps us better understand why our denomination and Presbyterian Women are organized at all levels of the church: congregation, presbytery (made up of several congregations in a region), synod (made up of several presbyteries), and churchwide (or national).

This connectional system allows ideas and information to flow through the organization, strengthening the ministry and mission of all. Our connectional system is undergirded with roles and responsibilities assumed by those called to lead and participate at each level. The circle, at the congregational level, is the foundation of PW, and informs and responds to the ministry of PW. PW at each level is led by a coordinating team. For more information, order the PW Manual: A Guide for PW Groups at www.presbyterianwomen.org/shop ($6; item PWR16120).

Model Covenant between PWC and Session available

In September, the Churchwide Coordinating Team (CCT) approved a model covenant between Presbyterian Women in the Congregation (PWC) and PC(USA) sessions. The PWC/Session covenant is an optional tool to help PWCs and sessions clarify the relationship between them and provide accountability guidelines, particularly around PWC financial and program management. The PWC/Session covenant is available at www.presbyterianwomen.org/?s=covenant. For questions or concerns, please contact Susan Jackson Dowd, susan.jackson-dowd@pcusa.org.

On Friday, Eileen Lindner (below left) interpreted the results of the survey of Presbyterians that was conducted by the Committee on the Office of the General Assembly prior to GA 2016. The report is full of fascinating statistics, which Eileen presented engagingly (she made numbers fun!). You can see the report, which has implications for PW, at pcusa.org/resource/final-report-church-21st-century/.

Administration Committee

- Admin recommended that the CCT form a new working committee known as the Stewardship Committee to promote a broader understanding of stewardship as it relates to the discipleship of PW, and revise the name and responsibilities of the Communications Coordination/Funds Development Committee to Communications Coordination Committee (CCC). The CCC will carry out a coordinated communication plan for PW, Inc. CCT approved this recommendation.

Birthday Offering recipient won't receive funds

The Reformed Presbyterian Church in Cuba has notified First Hand Aid, a 2017 Birthday Offering grant recipient, that their project will not be able to proceed. Therefore, PW's Creative Ministries Offering Committee, which selects and oversees PW grants, rescinded the grant. Please direct questions or concerns to Carol Winkler, winksmama@gmail.com.

HLM pins enclosed in fair trade bags

If you have received or given an Honorary Life Membership pin within the last few months, you will notice that the pin that you receive is enclosed in a colorful gift bag that was handcrafted by a Peruvian woman whose life has been transformed after joining a sewing cooperative named Kuichi (the Quechua word for "rainbow"). Thanks to Partners for Just Trade, which emerged out of the Presbyterian Hunger Program and has been supported in part by PW and PW's Birthday Offering, the artisan women of Kuichi are receiving a fair wage and decent work conditions for their highly-prized work. Thanks to this newfound stability, the women of Kuichi are emerging as leaders in their community, and are working toward bringing clean water, a sewage system and electricity to their dusty town high in the Andes.

For "God loves a cheerful giver" (2 Cor. 9:7)

The Mission Pledge, PW's annual fund, makes all things PW possible, regionally and nationally. Please consider a year-end gift (or a sustaining gift) to Presbyterian Women. You may give by placing your check in the green envelope enclosed in every issue of Horizons magazine (or send a check made payable to Presbyterian Women, with "Mission Pledge" in the notes line of the check; mail to Presbyterian Women, Remittance Processing—Giving, PO Box 643652, Pittsburgh PA 15264-3652). Or visit PW's new website where online giving is easy, secure and enjoyable: www.presbyterianwomen.org/give.

Every day PW is at work in the world

Since each and every hour, each and every day, Presbyterian Women is at work in the world, giving to the Mission Pledge is as necessary as taking care of those essential tasks that keep our lives and ministries in good order. In your email inbox you will soon see opportunities to consider giving to PW's Mission Pledge on Grateful Monday (November 27) and perhaps Giving Tuesday (November 28). These are days set aside for lifting up the ministry of PW, particularly as 2017 draws to a close. But please know that every day is Giving Tuesday and Grateful Monday, as PWs are giving every day, grateful and generous in heart and spirit. Please give as you have been blessed so that PW gives as we are called. In the meantime, do you have a story to share about PW ministry that was made possible by the Mission Pledge? If so, please share with Carissa Herold (send photos and captions, too!): carissa.herold@pcusa.org.

Moderator's Message

I have traveled 31 days in the last few months for PW. Meeting the women in the synods, presbyteries and congregations never gets old. I am continually inspired by the faithful work of PW. In this column I hope to encourage you to be bold and speak out about what you are doing. PWs are not good at tooting their own horns. On every visit, there are women who are new to PW and, time after time, they tell me they had no idea about all the mission, ministry, advocacy, Bible study and other work that PW does! They lament that they didn't get involved sooner. The good news is, many of these women report that they got involved because of a personal invitation.

Let me share some of what I have learned in my visits. At the PW in the Synod of the Northeast, meeting, our panelists spoke about immigration and diversity. They shared personal experiences and offered ideas for being a welcoming household of God. PWs are speaking out. In Oklahoma City, the church is heavily involved in community outreach and living out their call to educate children. They have programs for children six to seven days a week. The pastor and members are joining with PW to say that education is the key to ending poverty. Women in San Jose Presbytery are thinking of new ways to be PW. They have their meetings on Saturday afternoon. I got to visit Lifted Spirits, a drop-in center for homeless women (formerly known as the Women's Gathering Place). This program was highlighted in an article in the September/October 2015 issue of Horizons, but to visit first-hand was powerful. PW artists help the women express where they are in their lives. PW from all over the San Jose presbytery support this program by offering dignity, lunch, clothing, toiletries, volunteer staffing, and more. The women are surrounded by unconditional love each day. Women helping women!

I just returned from the Global Exchange to Indonesia. It's hard to find words to adequately share the experience. The women who hosted us were faithful, inspiring, and endearing. We learned about women being empowered through a program in the slums of Jakarta. Women entrepreneurs run small businesses in homes and buildings in the city as well as the countryside. Their products are sold in local markets and shipped around the world. Culture and tradition are intertwined in the faith communities. I encourage you to invite your synod's participant to share the story of how we are building bridges of understanding around the world (January/February 2018 Horizons has contact info).

Send your stories to winksmama@gmail.com. We must speak more loudly about the programs, advocacy work and mission that we do. Be bold, speak out and issue a personal invitation to someone.

In this age of careful stewardship, more and more communications happen online. If you can download the PDF version of this newsletter from our website, you may ask patricia.longfellow@pcusa.org to take you off the print distribution list.

Together in Action for Women's Advocacy in March

PW urges individuals and groups to join in action for women's advocacy at all times but especially during the two weeks of the UN Commission on the Status of Women, March 12 through 23. Ideas:

- Attend the Commission. The deadline to apply for the official PW/Presbyterian delegation is November 15. If you aren't able to join the delegation, you can still attend CSW parallel events; see www.ngo-csw.org/ngo-csw-forum for more info. And start making plans to join the official delegation in 2019. The 2018 application is posted at www.presbyterianwomen.org/justice. Look for the 2019 application in late September or early October 2018.
- Learn more about the theme "Challenges and opportunities in achieving gender equality and the empowerment of rural women and girls" (unwomen.org).
- Follow CSW on Facebook (PW's page, Ecumenical Women's page, the Presbyterian Ministry at the UN's page) and on UN Women's website, unwomen.org.
- Support women's empowerment with a mini-workshop on inclusive language, a fundraiser for an abuse shelter, or a dialogue with a girls' group about healthy choices.
- Learn about the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women (CEDAW) (unwomen.org).
- Prepare a display on early women leaders of the church (PW History Exhibit Kit; $19.95; PWR15137; pcusastore.com).
- Or take one of the other suggested actions found at www.presbyterianwomen.org/justice.

Bible Study

Field testers sought for 2020–2021 Horizons study

Horizons Bible studies are developed by Presbyterian Women for Presbyterian Women. Presbyterian women nominate authors who submit outlines and sample lessons. The churchwide Bible study committee meets in the spring to review proposals and choose an author, four years out. The chosen author writes a first draft that is field tested by PW groups around the country. Field testing takes place between August and December every year. Groups receive the first draft of the study along with evaluation forms to complete as they make their way through each lesson. All evaluation forms are sent to the Bible study author, who uses feedback to edit and rewrite her work. Field testing is the best way for your voice to be heard as new Bible studies are developed. PW circles, Bible study groups, and coordinating teams have all made excellent field testing groups.

What about your group for the 2020–2021 study on lament, to be field tested in late 2018? Apply today! Contact Betsy Ensign-George, 502.569.5366, betsy.ensign-george@pcusa.org.

Supporting the publishing mission of Presbyterian Women, one Horizons reader at a time!

Tucked into the new Horizons subscription card and renewal letter is an opportunity to add extra $$ over and above the subscription price to lend support to the publishing mission of Presbyterian Women. The ongoing response just confirms what everyone in the church already knows: Presbyterian women—and Horizons readers, in particular—never miss an opportunity to care much and give generously!

You may donate each time you renew, subscribe or give a gift subscription. You also may send a separate tax-deductible gift at any time, "Gift to publishing mission" in the memo line, to Publishing Mission, Presbyterian Women, Inc., PO Box 643652, Pittsburgh, PA 15264-3652. Call for Bible Study Proposals

The 2017 Presbyterian Women Churchwide Coordinating Team's Bible study committee will meet in March 2018 to choose the author and theme of the 2021-2022 PW/Horizons Bible study. Potential authors are invited to propose a theme and submit an outline and sample lesson (one of the nine lessons that will make up the study) to the committee for their consideration.

Authors must demonstrate knowledge of the Bible and related writings, knowledge of and commitment to Reformed theology, experience teaching Bible study, clear understanding of women's issues in the wider church and in the PC(USA), commitment to and use of inclusive language, active membership in the church, and working knowledge of Presbyterian Women. Deadline for proposals is January 31, 2018. Contact Betsy Ensign-George, PW associate editor, for more information: betsy.ensign-george@pcusa.org; 844.797.2872, ext. 5366; 100 Witherspoon St., Louisville, KY 40202.

About Hebrews for Everyone

Writing in an approachable and anecdotal style, Tom Wright helps us to find our way around the letter to the Hebrews, one of the most challenging writings in the New Testament. He acknowledges that people often find it difficult, because some of the ideas it contains are strange to us. Yet, like meeting a new friend, Wright helps us to find Hebrews full of interest and delight, with a powerful message that comes home to the church of today and tomorrow just as much as it did to the church of yesterday.

Change is in the air . . .

In addition to PW's shiny, new website, the PC(USA) store has a new look and new address! When you're ordering only PW resources, visit www.presbyterianwomen.org/shop. But if you're ordering both PW and PC(USA) resources, use one of these convenient ways to order from the PC(USA) Store:

- By phone, 800.533.4371 (Mon–Fri, 9 AM–5 PM ET)
- On line, www.pcusastore.com (be sure to click the Presbyterian Women link in the blue bar!)
- Email info@pcusastore.com.

The PC(USA) Store customer service staff are learning all there is to know about PW materials, so please continue to be patient if you are asked to answer an extra question or two. Please note that the PC(USA) Store does not use PDS PIN accounts. PW circles and churches should visit the site to learn about setting up an account. Currently, shipping charges are 10 percent of order total, $5.25 minimum, $65.00 maximum. Orders are generally processed within 24 business hours of receipt.

... but no need to toss recent promotional materials!

Ordering PW materials has changed, it's true, but no need to recycle recent promotional materials that include the older ordering information! Please continue to share and refer to these materials, such as the PW Purpose brochures, Bible study information, and so on. The 800 number will continue to "roll over" to the new number for a while, and orders sent to the older address will continue to be processed. Ordering information will be updated when the material is reprinted, saving a few trees and PW dollars. When in doubt? Visit www.presbyterianwomen.org, or call PW staff at toll free 844.PW.PCUSA (844.797.2872).

Remember, always start at smile.amazon.com and support Presbyterian Women in the PC(USA) when you do. Amazon gives a portion of each purchase made through Smile back to PW! Be sure you choose PW as your charity.

Horizons Reps' Corner

Dear Horizons Reps,

Where in the world is Horizons? Keeping Horizons on the horizon is an important task for Presbyterian Women. Horizons—a magazine and a Bible study—connect PW from all points east and west, north and south. And the reach of Horizons is awe-inspiring! The fun feature, Where in the world is Horizons? has, thanks to intrepid Presbyterian women who take their favorite magazine with them as they go, given us glimpses of Horizons in many of God's most amazing places: underwater, Machu Picchu, even the recent Global Exchange to Indonesia! Planning an excursion to someplace wonderful? Take a photo of you with your Horizons and email photo to yvonne.hileman@pcusa.org.

Horizons special offer!

For a limited time only, you can give a gift subscription to Horizons and get one free! With each one-year $24.95 subscription, recipients will receive six issues of the magazine (in print and digital) and the Horizons Bible study (in print only, mailed March 2018). This offer expires January 31, 2018. Call 866.802.3635. Mention Dept. BOGO-18-1 to receive this offer.

In celebration of PW faithful recently passed away

We thank God for the life and service of two faithful Presbyterian women who passed to God's glory this fall. Nadine Hill and Helen Sears, both tireless advocates for women and children, died within days of one another, Helen on September 30, Nadine on October 11. Nadine was a member of Second Presbyterian Church in Indianapolis. She was an alumna of the USA Mission Experience to Appalachia and founder of Ecumenical Women's Coalition Against Human Trafficking (EWCA), which focused on ending the sex trafficking of girls. She had hoped to build safe houses for at-risk girls and girls who had been rescued from trafficking. Nadine was 71, Helen was 91. Born in South Carolina, and educated in Texas, Helen was a member of First Presbyterian Church in Owensboro, Kentucky, for nearly 60 years. She was a lifelong educator who was active in PW. An advocate for the vulnerable and the marginalized, she helped establish a family development center in Owensboro and marched with Martin Luther King Jr. in Washington, DC, and Frankfort, KY.

Cloud of Witnesses: The Community of Christ in Hebrews Bible study resources

This year's Horizons Bible study, Cloud of Witnesses: The Community of Christ in Hebrews, approaches Hebrews through nine major themes: In Community with Jesus Christ; In Community with the Living God; In Community with the Living Word; In Community with God's Messengers; In Community with the Tradition of the Past; In Community with the Reality of the Present; In Community with the Hope of the Future; In Community with the Household of Faith; and In Community with All the Saints. The study was written by pastor and educator Melissa Bane Sevier (Suggestions for Leaders by Sung Hee Chang). Melissa's prayer for us is that study groups and circles develop an understanding of the book of Hebrews and a stronger sense of community through this study. Horizons subscribers received their copy with the March/April magazine. Remember that that is the most cost-effective way to receive the Bible study—with a subscription to Horizons!
