What My Grandmothers Taught Me: Learning from the Women in Matthew's Genealogy of Jesus

By Merryl Blair

Tamar, Rahab, Ruth, Bathsheba, and Mary—Matthew names these women for a reason.

How might Jesus have heard the stories of his grandmothers? What might the young Jesus have felt, as he heard about his family? What might the stories of these women have added to his sense of identity, as part of a particular family in a particular time and place?

Have you thought about Jesus' grandmothers? What can these Grandmothers-of-the-Faith teach us? Their stories will lead us into the gospel, the Good News about Jesus Christ. By exploring these stories together, we will have a richer idea of what the good news is.

About the author

Merryl Blair teaches at the Stirling Theological School in Melbourne, Victoria, Australia, and is active in the worldwide ministry of women of faith.

Into the Light: Finding Hope Through Prayers of Lament By P. Lynn Miller, author and artist

Lament is a proper theological response to the difficult situations of our world. One of the foundational points of the study is that, in scripture, lament usually leads to hope. Hope implies movement: both God's inherent movement toward justice and our movement toward God. Recovering lament may be one of the church's mostly timely gifts to the world.

Confessing the Beatitudes

Let us consider the Beatitudes as they might have been heard when Jesus spoke them—during the time of the Roman Empire. While great in many respects, Rome was a cruel regime under which many suffered. We are invited to identify with those who are poor and oppressed and, at the end of each lesson, to enter into a process of confession.
