Around the world the Fellowship of the Least Coin (FLC) brings connection and comfort. Whether one prays for wholeness for all people, setting aside a coin as a symbol of that prayer, or participates in a program made possible by an FLC grant—or both!—the Fellowship of the Least Coin changes lives. In 1956, when Shanti Solomon envisioned this prayer movement, she saw it as global and ecumenical, rooted in the pursuit of wholeness for all people.

The FLC Prayer Movement is simple, yet significant and unique.

- It brings Christian women together in a fellowship of prayer without any discrimination of race, nationality, culture or denomination. Christian women of the world demonstrate solidarity with each other through their common concern and love for humankind and creation. They are bound together in both giving and receiving.
- The offering is unique because all—regardless of income, education, nationality or home—give only the smallest coin of their currency. All are within the same discipline and share the common concerns of women around the world.
- It is stewardship, both of the idea and the funds. The least coins, when put together, become a large amount in the same way individual prayers offered by many members throughout the world become a strong force in bringing about reconciliation, peace and justice.

We praise and thank God for those who support FLC, who pray earnestly, give generously and share Shanti's vision for more justice, peace and reconciliation in our world. More than 60 years since Shanti first conceived of the movement, our least coins, which go with our prayers, still flow around the world. I invite you to participate in the FLC movement by regularly praying for peace, justice and reconciliation, and setting aside a least coin (bigger coins and bills are perfectly fine, too!), and allow your everyday life and faith to be richly blessed.

Each year, least coins from around the world make possible several types of grants. Project grants support 20–25 initiatives around the world. Regional ecumenical organizations, women's programs, the World Council of Churches Just Community of Women and Men and the World Day of Prayer International Committee (WDPIC) receive block grants to enhance their work and to strengthen ecumenical solidarity. Emergency grants for disaster relief and rehabilitation are also given to show loving concern to disaster-stricken countries. The Scholarship Award for Young Women (SAYW) and the Bursary for Older Women (BOW) are the scholarships given to individuals.

Shanti Means Peace

This whimsical tale of the founding of the Fellowship of the Least Coin is told through the eyes of a girl from India who finds a nearly worthless coin and, by spinning it in her hand, is able to visit places and people touched by the Least Coin prayer movement. Written by Anna Hanson Bedford and illustrated by Shelly Hehenberger, this beautiful (and award-winning!)

book is a wonderfully told story on its own, and a lovely way to introduce this international prayer movement to children of all ages; item PWR14470; $7.50.*

A free downloadable resource packet (including recipes, crafts, a song and more) is available at presbyterianwomen.org/shanti-resources to help you interpret the story.

*Order from presbyterianwomen.org/shop or call 800/533-4371 (Monday—Friday, 10 am to 5 pm ET). Prices do not include shipping (calculated based on weight of order, $6.25 minimum).
